MRS. DAVID H. BURR'S
French and English seminary for Young Ladies, corner of E and 9th streets, Washington city.

THE location of this seminary is one of the most desirable in the city, on account of its healthy and airy position. The house is large and commodious, with ample grounds and other facilities for amusement and recreation. The principal, so well and favorably known in this city, and in New York, from her long experience in teaching, hopes to give entire satisfaction to all who may confide their daughters to her care. She is a native of France, and familiar with its language and literature, and conversant with the best and casiest modes of imparting to her pupils a perfect knowledge of that language, so that they can not only read and write, but speak it fluently. She has secured able saristants for various departments, so that all branches of an English as well as French education will be thoroughly taught. Pupils who reside in the family have the peculiar advantages of hearing, and conversing at all times in the French language, and of perfecting themselves in the science of music, being under the surveillance of an experienced teacher. The course of instruction, besides the usual elementary branches, includes all the higher studies pursued in the most approved northern seminaries. The discipline is mild and affectionate, yet decided, and is maintained by appeals to the affections and conscience of the pupit; it is designed, by a proper development and culture, are the great objects desired, it is the aim of the principal not so much to crowd the memory with words, as to draw forth and train the systematic and vigorous action, the observing, reflecting, and active powers of the mind. The charges to those who reside in the family are, for board and tuition in all the branches of French and English, §200 per annum for a single pupil; but when two or more are entered at the same time, a livered declations will be neaded. The additional trance. No deduction will be made to those who sent themselves after commencing a quarter, unsupervised from attending by sickness. Bills in Lases to be paid in advance. Every attention is id to the religious as well as moral and tntellectual structions of the pupils, but no sectarian peculiaries are ever inculcated. Those residing in the family will attend such churches as their parents may lect, under the care of a teacher. They will attend the Episcopal church with the Principal, when on their directions are given. Any other information, and the most astisfactory references will be ven on application to the principal.

The undersigned will also attend to any claims or other business which may be intrusted to his care and supervision, before any of the departments of the general government.

The conveniences afforded by the new and extensive edifice in which the lectures are now delivered, are such as will facilitate very much the imparting of medical instruction. The lecture rooms are admirably arranged, well lighted, and warmed. The museum is increasing daily in importance and interest. The rooms of practical anatomy afford advantages rarely equalled; they will be opened the first week of October. The infirmary is under the immediate direction of the faculty of medicine, and this, with the public dispensary, will continue to present numerous and valuable cases for clinical instruction. Clinical lectures will be delivered at least twice a week, and operations performed before the class.

The entire expense of a course of lectures, by all the professors, is $80. Demonstrator's ticket $10. Good board can be procured, at from $250 to $3 00

P. S. Many persons of this city, Philadelphia, and Baltimore, who have viewed the property lately, are of the opinion that there is no place in Washington so well calculated for a confectionary and pleasure garden, as any quantity of ground to the amount of acres can be obtained on a long credit. Ninth street is one of the most popular streets in the city for those who wish pleasure and exercise in the open air.

Another advantage which this property possesses is, that it is situated at nearly equal distance between the old market and the contemplated new one and very convenient to both.
